This property is a traditional village house located in a prestigious street just off the Plaza Fuente Arriba in Alora pueblo. The property is currently divided into two separate houses which could be easily reformed to provide one large village house. House 1: one enters at street level into a welcoming hallway which leads through to a spacious central sitting room. There is a room to the front of the house, off the sitting room which would be ideal for a bedroom or second sitting room. A spacious kitchen leads off to a very charming Andalucian patio from which there is access to a further room and further access upstairs to a bedroom which leads up to a glorious terrace hosting views over Alora pueblo. A large bedroom with a second room off and a bathroom complete the accommodation offered by house 1. House 2: This property has its own independent access from the street leading to a short flight of stairs to the property. The accommodation offered is a sitting room/dining room, galley style kitchen, 2 bedrooms plus a dressing room/study and a bathroom. There is also a private terrace. This property has lots of Andalucian charm but does require some upgrading. It offers the opportunity to acquire a traditional townhouse with good outdoor space or indeed the opportunity to acquire two separate units of accommodation. House 1 and house 2 can be sold separately for 90.000€ each or the entire property for 180.000€ negotiable.
