Alcaucin village is a charming, very Spanish, white-washed village close to the national park with glorious, green views all around. It is also well-situated – it is on the doorstep of the national park (with its many walks and striking views); 30 minutes from the smart coastal resort and Spanish town of Torre del Mar; and 50 minutes from Malaga airport. Abundant bars and shops, a bank, supermarkets, a library, a health centre and even a 22m public pool open during high season make it a delightful place to live with all daily amenities on hand.
